The Success of the Original supports the imitations and there's a crowd of them hanging to Pearline. It saves work for them, as it does for everybody. It saves them talk, too. It's the one cry of the peddler that his imitation is "the same as Pearl-ine," or "as good as Pearl-ine."
It isn't true, but it shows what he thinks of Pearl-ine. He knows that Pearl-ine is the standard—the very best—for its purpose. So does everybody who has used it.

Beware of the basket gang—be sure you get Pearl-ine. Get it from your grocer—and send back any imitation he may send you.

TERRIBLE RAVAGES OF GRIP.

Nearly 1,100 Deaths in a Week in Chicago.

HOSPITALS FILLED AND UNDERTAKERS WORN OUT.

Weather Responsible for the Fearful Mortality.

CHICAGO, Ill., March 29. There have been 920 deaths in Chicago during the past week. The record for the week will show nearly 1,100 deaths.

The account of the interview which the late Prince Napoleon is said to have had with Prince Bismarck in 1866, was narrated to the Advertiser by a gentleman, Prince Napoleon, who read the Marquis's written notes and authorized their publication after his death.

After Prince Bismarck, as already stated, had stated his design to Prince Napoleon—that is, for France and Germany combined to invade Italy and control all Europe—Prince Napoleon said:

"France would have to receive for her share in the transaction the Prince Bismarck thought so. But that is impossible. Public opinion would never consent to the concession of a single German village. Would you like to see the Marquis's notes? He might talk of that. But how about England?

Prince Bismarck—I don't care a rap for what England could say. What she does do? She could not mobilize over 100,000, or at most 150,000 men. Well, are you strong enough together to sweep them into the channel?

Prince Napoleon—Would it not be useful to join down those ideas on paper, to make a memorandum that could be shown to the Emperor?

Prince Bismarck—You would like a signed secret treaty. What would be the use? If the paper is written only in the contrary case.

A gesture which had the sentence. The chancellor added that he had not spoken to Emperor Napoleon in such plain terms because Napoleon was a woman.

Prince Napoleon told the Marquis that he would inform the Emperor of the conversation in the following terms:

"Sire, Prince Bismarck proposed a great act of bravery. A coup d'etat which had taken him before the police commissary; let us let us be honest with him.

The Marquis de Villeneuve concludes by saying that Prince Napoleon returned to Paris and advised the Emperor to invade Belgium the day Prussia declared war on Austria; but that the Emperor's love of peace and justice, which the chancellor had termed "absurdities," carried the day in the mind of Napoleon III.

SERIOUS WRECK.

Loss of Life Caused by a Railroad Smashup.

ASHLAND, Pa., March 28. Another wreck occurred last night on the line of the Reading railroad. Thirty-five freight cars were piled up in a mass, and plowed across the debris of the engine of the Reading. Three were killed, and four injured.

The killed were Andrew Walker, aged 31, engineer, married, five children; Daniel Freeman, aged 21, single; Frank Meyer, engineer, aged 25, single.

The injured are William Hoffman, aged 20, single, back broken in two places, cannot recover; Jacob Gaylock, single, aged 24, body badly crushed, also internally injured; Lewis Boehrer, aged 25, married, badly injured and body severely bruised; William Burrell, disfigured.

THE FIRST PERMIT

For Inspection of Cattle for Export.

CHICAGO, March 28. The first permit for the inspection of cattle for export to Europe under the new law just passed by Congress was issued today to Nelson Morris, of this city, who received a dispatch this afternoon from the Secretary of Agriculture at Washington announcing the fact.

Information was also received showing the marvellous results of the inspection system while yet in imperfect operation, before the passage of the new law. The United States for the two months of 1891 that during January and February (Great Britain received from the United States 53,468 head, Germany 123, Belgium 628, and France 18.

These figures, it is explained, show an increase in the foreign cattle trade of the United States for the two months of 1891 over the corresponding period last year of nearly 33 per cent.

THE WORLD'S FAIR.

Directors of the Fair—Theodore Thomas will be Musical Director.

CHICAGO, March 28. President Lyman J. Gage and his fellow directors, who have guided the destinies of the world's fair from the inception, completed last night the term of office for which they were elected. In his valedictory address President Gage reviewed the work so far accomplished, gave an account of the financial status of the exposition, and drew a picture of the future, strong with assurance and confidence.

Mr. Gage refused to accept any salary for his work as president. He was frequently applauded during his address, and a unanimous vote of thanks was tendered him. Mr. Gage some time ago declined a re-election as president, but he will probably continue to be a member of the commission. It is understood he will now become president of the First National Bank, with headquarters in Chicago, and has been actively identified for many years.

The election of new directors will occur early in April. It is said that a sharp struggle will occur for supremacy in the board, the railroad which have interests antagonistic to the Illinois Central having a candidate of combined forces against that corporation.

The final act of the outgoing directors was to name as musical director of the fair, and that of William L. Thomas as choral director.

MAINE MELANGE.

Many interesting clippings in the Pine Tree.

News, Notes and Gossip Gathered from Many Sources.

Quite an important transfer of real estate in the town of Bangor, Me., is being made. The "outsiders" with capital are beginning to find out that our Aroostook town is a better opportunity for investment than eastern people are led by going west.

The Joseph Andrews farm, situated in the northeast corner of 1 town, about seven miles from Bangor, has been purchased by Mrs. J. C. Drake, of Bangor, and her father and brothers are to take possession at once. The farm contains about 320 acres of fine land, 60 acres cleared and a good set of farm buildings. The land was purchased from the State several years ago by the late Dr. B. Andrews, and at that time seemed to be in a remote and inaccessible situation, but pluck and industry have made it a fine place, and a good neighborhood.

Where the Votes Came From.

The more closely one examines the vote which by one stroke sweeps away the "systems of conducting public elections" and excludes the right of suffrage on "the part of every citizen of the commonwealth which has existed with but little change for generations," the more easy it will be to understand the extreme anxiety of the Republican advocates like the Press and Recorder, to understand that the result will be accepted without discussion of the manner of its attainment.

It requires little sagacity to understand that in a state where Republican ascendancy has been so strongly established, the Democrats would naturally favor any radical change of conditions that would tend to political disorganization, in the belief that the resulting confusion party that would be harmful to the dominant party that to which in Maine has for years been a political "bait," waiting for something to turn up. In the past quarter of a century the Democracy of Maine found its only opportunity in the Greenback craze, that after running its course in other parts of the country finally swept over Maine bringing to the surface a conglomeration of Democracy and fit money theorists the leadership of which was assumed by the unscrupulous demagogues who led the notorious Union party of Maine into the infamy of the Oregon Count Out Frauds of 1890.

The uprising of the people under the lead of the Republican party to overthrow that conspiracy, led to a more vigorous and energetic organization of the party of the people in Maine, and it has continued to receive a very decided popular support. The political overturn last November in other States previously Republican by large majorities, has seen the Democratic brethren in Maine at work very eagerly to discover some crack in the rock, or to make one through which entering wedge might be driven into the heretofore impregnable lines of the Republican party. And when they decided by unanimous vote in a Democratic legislative caucus that it was for the interest of the Democratic party to aid the passage of the Australian ballot bill, and followed up the decision by unanimously voting in favor, there was reasonable notice given by that body that the Democracy believed it had struck something that could be used to the detriment of Republicanism in Maine. This view was also strengthened by the unbroken experience of the partisan advantage taken of the Australian law in every State where it had been adopted.

As the suspicious Democratic desire for the revolutionizing of the election laws of the State could only be attained by reinforcement from the Republican ranks, it becomes of interest to analyze the vote by which the result was so emphatically seen where the tendency to fusion was strongest, and where the Republicans stood most firmly together. For this purpose the following tabulation of the vote by which the Australian ballot bill was passed by the House on the 24th instant will be found of interest. For convenience, we put the Republicans who voted against the bill in the first column, headed "R. Nay," the Republicans who voted for the bill in the next column, headed "R. Yea," the Democrats next under head of "D. Yea," and all those not voting are put under the heading of "Absent."

First District.

Rep. Nay. Rep. Yea. Dem. Yea. Absent.

MAINE NEWS

MAINE LEGISLATURE

The Saturday Session of Our Law

Makers

WASHINGTON, March 29. There have been various attempts during the past few years to provide people of prominence in this country, the person who launched the scheme being an alleged Spanish priest.

Soon after President Harrison assumed the office he received a letter from a Spanish priest, as the writer described himself, saying that a Spanish army officer, after undergoing incredible vicissitudes of fortune, died in Spain, leaving the priest a sizable estate.

Containing $200,000 which was to be turned over to President Harrison and the title condition that he should assume charge of the officer's little daughter.

Incidentally $20,000 was needed to pay necessary expenses. The matter was confidential and the President was to direct his reply in Spanish to the priest and enclose it in a letter addressed to a Spanish lady.

The President also enclosed a letter from the bishop testifying to the good character of the priest, and the matter was made out for a person of a different name and signed by the President.

The text person selected as a victim was Gen. Bartlett of the pension office in Washington.

In this case a great quantity of valuable plate was stolen from the pension office, and the general really recalled as an acquaintance of his early years.

His capture was effected by the unusual precautions to be observed. He escaped without loss.

A member of the United States House of Representatives last summer came in for one of these private packages, which were warranted to contain a fortune and a beautiful heiress.

The letter was addressed from the "Paris chamber of San Jaime Alameda," bearing the seal of the church and seal of Archbishop Roldan. Alberto Senar is the priest in this case.

His letter is chiefly remarkable for the crafty manner in which he seeks to prevent exposure of the fraud. He writes that it appears that the recipients' interest is to maintain silence.

According to the priests' story an Army officer died.

Leaving a fortune of $150,000. The Congressman was asked to act as executor and share in the fortune.

One of the priests' letters was paying down $5,000 did not even include the name of the priest. He did not even include the name of the priest.

Meanwhile the authorities at certain Spanish cities from which cheating schemes are supposed to have emanated, have been notified.

FROM WASHINGTON.

News About the Capitol.

Indiana's Payment Stopped.

WASHINGTON, March 28. The Secretary of the Treasury has stopped the payment of the money due to Indiana in settlement of the claim of that State under the direct tax act.

This action is due to a discovery that there is an unsettled liability on the part of Indiana amounting to $17,000, on account of old war claims, which liability was overlooked in the settlement of the State's account with the Government.

The matter will be settled for the present by paying the balance of the money of the amount in dispute, leaving that for future adjustment.

SNOW DOWN SOUTH.

For the first time since the war of 1861.

WINCHESTER, Va., March 28. Snow fell for 48 hours, reaching a depth of 2 1/2 feet here. The storm has moderated.

DEATHS.

MAINE, Pa., March 28. A large section of country hereabouts is snowbound to-day. The early morning train from Wilmington, Del., became stuck for 17 hours, and a number of heavy engines were required to get it out.

The mail service between Lancaster county towns and this city did not reach here at all to-day, the roads being filled up with drifts six to eight feet deep. The country west of Reading for 20 miles is covered with 15 inches of snow.

THE TUNNEL CASE.

Director Rockefeller will not go to Europe.

NEW YORK, March 28. District Attorney Nicolai said to-day that he has learned that the Standard Oil Company, one of the directors of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, had bought the tunnel case and was about to send it to Europe, while the grand jury investigation of the tunnel collision was still incomplete.

Mr. Nicolai said he considered very disrespectful to the grand jury, so he notified Mr. Rockefeller, through his counsel, that he had better stay here and inform the grand jury that Mr. Rockefeller would stay. I suppose there was no intention on Mr. Rockefeller's part to run away.

The grand jury will probably finish their investigations in the tunnel matter on Monday or Tuesday evening.

TO AVOID RECOVERY.

Letter from the Commissioner.

WASHINGTON, March 28. Mr. McCoy, commissioner of the currency, has sent a letter to National Bank Examiner Hapburn in regard to the Washington National Bank of New York, suggesting that two courses be open to a reorganization to be avoided.

In the first place the controller can levy an assessment on the bank, which would require the assets of the bank by $100,000 cash. In case this money was paid to the controller, the bank would be reorganized.

To reorganize business, and the amounts due to the bank.

News About the Capitol.

Indiana's Payment Stopped.

WASHINGTON, March 28. The Secretary of the Treasury has stopped the payment of the money due to Indiana in settlement of the claim of that State under the direct tax act.

This action is due to a discovery that there is an unsettled liability on the part of Indiana amounting to $17,000, on account of old war claims, which liability was overlooked in the settlement of the State's account with the Government.

The matter will be settled for the present by paying the balance of the money of the amount in dispute, leaving that for future adjustment.

THE TUNNEL CASE.

Director Rockefeller will not go to Europe.

NEW YORK, March 28. District Attorney Nicolai said to-day that he has learned that the Standard Oil Company, one of the directors of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, had bought the tunnel case and was about to send it to Europe, while the grand jury investigation of the tunnel collision was still incomplete.

Mr. Nicolai said he considered very disrespectful to the grand jury, so he notified Mr. Rockefeller, through his counsel, that he had better stay here and inform the grand jury that Mr. Rockefeller would stay. I suppose there was no intention on Mr. Rockefeller's part to run away.

The grand jury will probably finish their investigations in the tunnel matter on Monday or Tuesday evening.

Splendid Weather for the Day.

The Services and Concerts at the Different Churches.

Easter Sunday morn dawned bright and warm and the favorable weather continued through the day, and the many who desired to attend the services, a better day for the occasion could not have been chosen, and everything was in harmony. For some time preparations have been in progress for the observance of Easter Sunday, which is made a special event in this city as well in other places, and the result was services of an unusually impressive character, and

Easter concerts of much more than ordinary interest.

The churches were all more or less elaborately decorated with flowers, plants and vines, etc., and presented a beautiful appearance as the result of the skill and taste of those who had the decorations in charge.

The attendance at each church in the city was very large, and nothing was lacking to make the observance of the day an impressive one.

At the HANDSOME STREET church there was observed with appropriate services.

In the morning the pastor preached from 1st Cor. 15-57. A solo was finely rendered by Mrs. W. L. Bragg, also the an-
